Witness Accuse Harding in Scandal

DAUGHERTY IS ACCUSED ALSO IN LURID TALE

Former Department of Justice Agent Tells Things He Heard

Washington, March 17.—The Daugherty investigating committee heard a story today that rivalled in lurid detail any of those that startled the country in the opening days of the inquiry.

Its salient features were based on allegations that Attorney General Daugherty himself was the head of a conspiracy to display the Dempsey-Carpenter fight films throughout the country and that Mr. Daugherty suggested to those who first formed the plan that its backers should receive a fifty per cent "cut" of the profits.

The witness was Gerald O. Holdridge, a former Department of Justice agent, and the story he told was based on information he said had been given him by Jap Muma, New York correspondent for the Cincinnati Enquirer. Muma, he said, "practically accused" Daugherty of being head of the conspiracy; told him of an exhibition of the pictures at the home here of E. B. McLean with President Harding and members of the cabinet present; and asserted that in the talk that followed Daugherty had discussed the possibility of exhibiting the pictures generally.

While Holdridge was on the stand the committee also made plans to follow up its investigation into gun-running on the Mexican border and into stories of American financial aid to Mexican revolutionaries. A subpoena was issued for Casey Adams, former mayor of Calexico, Calif.

A. Papra, Chicago, also was summoned in connection with the Dempsey-Carpenter fight picture distribution.

Links Daugherty With Films

The name of Attorney General Daugherty was directly linked with the Dempsey-Carpenter fight films deal by Holdridge. He testified that Jap Muma, New York correspondent for the Cincinnati Enquirer, and one of those named as involved in the arrangement, had "practically accused" the Attorney General himself with being head of the "conspiracy" to show the pictures throughout the country without Department of Justice interference.

The witness declared that Muma also had said that W. J. Burns, chief of the department's bureau of investigation, was "standing in" on the deal.

Holdridge also said Muma told him that the Attorney General said to him: "If you put this across, you ought to get a big cut. Not less than 50 per cent."

Holdridge told the committee of investigating exhibiting of the fight pictures and of an "apparent conspiracy" to violate the law in showing them.

Holdridge said Muma told him that on July 5, 1921, he (Muma) brought films here and went to the home of Edward B. McLean, the publisher.

Cabinet Men Saw Film

The pictures were exhibited at McLean's house, the witness said, and Postmaster General Neal and various cabinet officers and ambassadors were present.

Mr. Daugherty and Mr. George Christian, President Harding's secretary, discussed with Muma, the exhibition of the films, the witness said Muma told him.

Muma said Mr. Daugherty told him, according to the witness, that the law prohibited only transportation of the films and suggested to Muma that he take up the matter with Alfred H. Upton, a lawyer here.

Muma said he had "reached an understanding" with Upton, Holdridge stated. He added that Muma told him "We went to it."

"Goat" in Every State

There was to be a "goat" in each state to be fined, Muma told him, the witness added, and there was to be an effort to "get a line" on the attitude of federal judges.

Muma told him that either Judge Landis of Illinois or Judge Anderson of Indiana had such a hostile attitude that the matter was dropped. Holdridge said, adding that he believed the reference was to Judge Anderson.

Muma said he told McLean that he (Muma) was "headed for the Atlanta Penitentiary," the witness quoted Muma as saying.

Then, he said, Muma told him Mc

HUNT VANDALS WHO DAMAGED LANARK CHURCH

Windows Wrecked By Rocks and Bullets Twice Last Week.

Vandals, armed with guns and rocks, who deliberately wrecked ornamental windows in the Church of Christ at Lanark, Ill., are being hunted by Carroll county authorities.

With rifle shots and rocks, the vandals have carried on a campaign of terror, smashing the windows under cover of darkness.

It is believed that the destruction is the work of persons who took offense at something the church pastor said in denouncing that hooch-making and bootlegging in the community must be stopped.

In the first attack on the church, stones were used. In the second attack, both bullets and rocks were employed.

FIRST CHILD BORN IN LEE CO. DIED SUNDAY AT MOLINE

Mrs. William Richards Followed Husband to the Great Beyond.

Mrs. William H. Richards of Moline, Illinois, whose husband was buried there last Wednesday, followed him from this world yesterday. Her death is of more than common interest and importance to this city, for she was the first white child born in Lee county. Her life encompassed substantially the entire history of this town. Henrietta Dixon was born at Dixon's Ferry on June 30, 1836. She was the daughter of James P. Dixon and his wife, Fanny Dixon, and was the granddaughter of John Dixon, the founder of this city. She was a sister of the late Mrs. William Barge and of Sherwood Dixon, father of Attorneys Henry Dixon and George C. Dixon.

April 10, 1860, she was married to William H. Richards, who had come to Dixon, September 1, 1836, from Toronto, Canada. With her young husband she went to California by way of the Isthmus and resided at various places in the gold fields until 1870 when they returned to Dixon and in the next year took up their residence at Moline, where they have ever since lived. "Aunt Nettie," as she was affectionately called by her many friends, is well known to many of the older residents of this city. She is survived by her daughter, Mary L. Richards, and by two granddaughters, Gertrude Simmon and Anna M. Elchstaedt, of Moline, and by two great granddaughters. A niece, Mrs. E. E. Wingert, of this city, was at her side at her death. The funeral services will be conducted at the family residence in Moline Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Chicago, March 17.—Miss Mary Mc Fall of Galesburg, Ill., and Clarence Anderson and John Elmhurst, both of Chicago, were rescued from drowning yesterday when their automobile plunged through the open Kedzie Ave. bridge.

THE SHADE: "THAT SURELY MAKES ME LOOK LIKE A PIKER"

THREE YOUTHS IN STOLEN CAR ARE CAPTURED HERE

Trip to Golden West Comes to Abrupt End in Dixon.

Three Chicago youths from the Bohemian colony started out last week to explore the great western country, with California as their objective. They worked as far west as Dixon, when they were detained by Chief J. D. Van Bibber and yesterday were taken back to Geneva by Deputy Sheriff Treadwell of Kane county to answer to charges of stealing an automobile from Frank Foley who resides three miles north of St. Charles on the Elgin highway.

William C. Rose, 18; Stephan Marek, 18, and Edwin Neruda, 16, formed the party, who had started out to seek their fortunes. Rose told a story of having been ordered out of his home last Monday and told not to return until he had secured employment. He went as he told the police his story of being unable to find employment in the city. He prevailed upon Marek and Neruda to accompany him to St. Charles, where his father owns a summer cottage on Fox river near that city. They remained at the cottage until Friday night when they went to the farm of Frank Foley, broke into the garage, pushed his Dodge touring car out on the highway and embarked upon their trip of adventure. Returning to the cottage, they loaded up with fire arms, bedding and cooking utensils and started out. West of Dixon, the car ran out of gasoline and the trio were reported to Chief Van Bibber who went out to investigate and brought them back with him.

The authorities at St. Charles were notified Saturday afternoon and asked that the trio be held until Sunday, when a deputy sheriff and the owner of the stolen car came out and took them in custody.

River Didn't Clear of Ice on Saturday

Rock river did not clear of ice Saturday, but both channels on either side of the Island park were cleared and this morning the flow started again. The ice held above the island Saturday and was breaking away this morning, clearing up to the cement plant. Above that point, it is holding, but indications today point to its passing out in the next few days.

One of the local historians reported this morning that last year the ice passed out on March 4. On March 12, Dixon and vicinity experienced a 15-inch snow fall and flurries continued for three days following. Monday, March 19, a year ago, the thermometer registered four degrees below zero.

"Million Dollar" Snow Blankets Grain Belt, Mid-Western States

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 17.—(By the Associated Press)—The budding green gave place to white on this St. Patrick's day in a large part of the central west.

Snow ranging from an inch to nearly two feet covered southern Nebraska, most of Kansas and most of northeastern Missouri and weather officials predicted the white area would spread today to South Dakota and Iowa on the north and Oklahoma to the south.

In northwestern and central Kansas yesterday as much as 15 inches fell and the storm continued into the night. Grain men hailed it a "million dollar" snow.

MANY FINE CATTLE IN PALMYRA FOUND TO BE TUBERCULIN

Territory Around This City Said to Be Extremely Bad.

Dr. H. C. Barth of Amboy, county bovine tuberculosis veterinarian, spent Saturday in Palmyra township inspecting herds and culling out infected animals. In one herd at Gap Grove, consisting of 33 milch cows, the veterinarian found 22 cases of bovine tuberculosis. In such cases the farm is at once placed under quarantine and the infected animals are branded on the head with a "T" which denotes an infected animal.

Other herds in Palmyra were also inspected and in one instance where the herd is made up almost entirely of pure bred stock, 16 head were found to be reactors last fall and on the test Saturday afternoon two more had reacted and were condemned. In this case the owner has built a new cattle barn and had equipped it with every modern convenience with a view of bringing about strict sanitation. The entire herd is being disposed of with a view of completely eradicating the disease and establishing a new herd which will be tuberculin free.

Five-Year Campaign

The county veterinarian states that it will take five year to canvass Lee county and inspect all animals. Since last July, when the office of county bovine tuberculosis officer was created, Dr. Barth, who was appointed at that time, has inspected over 8,000 head of cattle. In January and

DEPORTATION IN HOOCH CASE NOT LAW PROVISION

Proceedings Against Setegi is Started in County Court.

Information was filed in the county court this morning against Paul Setegi, whose home east of Dixon was the scene of one of the biggest raids in many months last Thursday evening. Setegi is charged with possessing and operating a still and with possession and manufacture of intoxicating liquor. The case was continued until March 25, the defendant furnishing a bond of $1,000.

State's Attorney Mark C. Keller has received word from Assistant United States District Attorney Phil Ward at Sterling, that deportation proceedings cannot be brought against Setegi in this case, as violation of the Volstead Act is not considered a felony.

The state's attorney petitioned District Attorney Ward to start proceedings to deport the Setegi family. The reply stated that law only permitted proceedings of this kind to be started when the accused party had been found guilty of a felony, and that violation of the liquor law was not considered a felony.

Clover Field, Santa Monica, Calif., March 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—The army flight around the world today at 9:32 a. m., Major F. L. Martin was the first to get away.

Lieut. Leigh Wade, photographer of the flight was the second to get away, and Lieut. L. H. Smith, pilot of the flight was third to take off.

The world cruisers circled around Clover Field for altitude as a large crowd waved farewell. They flew in formation with Major Martin to the front and Lieutenants Smith and Wade paralleled to the rear.

Clover Field, Santa Monica, Calif., March 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Three world cruiser biplanes built to go round the world were waiting today for the word to start soaring on the first leg of a 30,000 mile voyage across 23 countries and back to their starting point.

The hop off was set for 7 a. m., Pacific time, but with clouds gathering observers were reminded that unfavorable weather conditions might delay it.

In this case it was expected that the fourth world cruiser plane, due back today from San Diego where it had gone for compass calibration, might be able to start with the other three instead of trailing them to Seattle.

At 8:40 o'clock the flight commanders were awaiting return of the army airplane sent up to the Tehachad Pass to report on weather conditions. Its return was momentarily expected and the crews were ready to take off immediately upon its favorable report.

The plane returned at 8:45 a. m. Major Martin reported the outlook for a flight was doubtful, owing to thick clouds over the pass which would make high flying necessary practically all the way to Sacramento.

Major F. L. Martin of Chauteau Field, Illinois, commander of the round-the-world flight, declared that from a mechanical standpoint all conditions were favorable for the journey.

The flight will be up to coast to Alaska with a stop at Sacramento over night, another stop at Van Cour, barracks Washington, and a journey of several days at Seattle, change landing gear for pontoons. Thence the cruisers will fly over British Columbia to Alaska, across the Alaskan Islands to the Kuriles north of Japan, down through Japan, across to China, down the Chinese coast through India to Persia over Mesopotamia and Syria, over the Holy Land through Turkey over Rumania, Serbia, Austria, Germany, France, England, Ireland, and over the Orkneys and Faroe Islands to Iceland, Greenland, Labrador, down through Canada and the New England coast to Washington and thence back to Clover Field.

THE LINCOLN CIRCUIT—

E. O. Laughlin, in the Ladies' Home Journal.
In Springfield, where his ashes lie, A granite column rises high:
To Springfield, year on year, there winds
A caravan, that never ends,
Of pilgrims, eager, come to pay
Their homage to his sacred clay:
And yet methinks the true estate
Of Lincoln, humble, simple, great,
Is better sensed in village street,
Where once he loved to walk and greet
In heartiness his fellows all,
In mart, in court house, tavern hall,
Methinks his spirit lingers where
He lived and wrought. No sepulcher
Of stately grandeur, cold and dim,
Can hold the human heart of him.

The little towns, the county seats,
With dreaming squares and idling
streets,
Plain homes of plainer pioneers,
Unsung, yet hallowed through the years
Because in distant times they saw
Him come and go to practice law,
Tell homely tales, crack homely jokes
And neighbor with the common folk,
The little towns, the country roads,
The woods, the prairies, the abodes
Of humble men where malice falls
And charity for all avails—
These are the shrines that still en-fold
The heart of Lincoln as of old,
Whose living legend runneth thus:
We loved him; he was one of us.

Attended Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mrs. Lottie Horton of this city attended Wednesday in Rochelle the golden wedding anniversary of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Ackland. They are well known all over this section of the state. The Rochelle Register of Friday, March 14th, has the following account of the celebration:
The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Ackland was the scene of unusual festivities Wednesday, it being the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. The reunion of the family was practically complete, all their children and grand children being present with the exception of Luther Kersey, a grandson of Oklahoma.

The home was decorated with roses, daffodils and potted plants. A four-course dinner was served by six waiters attired in the colors used in the decorations. A bout sixty partook of this sumptuous dinner. The turkey was served from the same platter which was used for the wedding dinner a half century ago and the bride and groom of Wednesday were seated at the same table that they used to partake of their first dinner in their new home.

A program followed consisting of a splendid talk by Rev. F. W. Nazarene, a former pastor in which he very cleverly mixed humor with more serious thoughts. The following then appeared:
Dialogue by Kenneth, Marion and Helen Ackland.
Toasts and several songs by Mabel Merritt that were appropriate and beautifully sung.

Reading by Miss Bernice Ackland.
Open house was kept in the afternoon to friends and old acquaintances and a number called to extend congratulations. Telegrams from New Mexico, Joliet, Kansas and various other places were received.
Many beautiful gifts were received—gifts of gold and fifty roses from the children and grandchildren being among the highly prized mementos of the occasion. The following contribution written by Mrs. August Zimmerman was read:
Fifty years married.
Oh, what does it mean?
Lots of hard luck, work and pleasures unless.
You started out with nothing and now you have more,
Can buy anyone out that comes to your door.
Fifty years ago you decided to wed. Thought two could live cheaper—that's enough said.
But you soon found out that three in the house was better than two.
And when Howard made his appearance it pleased both of you.
Then John came as arrival number two,
You wanted a girl, but said he would do.
And when Dora came you thought you were through,
But Elizabeth got here to make a quartet of you.
Now George and Eulah received as hearty a welcome as the rest. But when Baby Jay arrived they really thought he was the best.
Because he was the baby with which they all could play,
And being the youngest, he is still their baby today.
But this is all history of which I am not a part.
I have only been your neighbor for nine short years, about.
But now that the radio has made its appearance in our home,
We are tied closer together than the fellows in the "Teapot Dome."
And while on the subject of radios I might here say,
That your radio has been harder on you in a way,
Has kept you up more nights until after eleven.
Than you ever stayed up night raising your children seven.
But it does my heart good when Birthdays, Christmas and other holidays appear,
To see all the children come home to their parents dear.
And here's wishing you will be my neighbors for many years more.
For I know your latch-string for me will be on the outside of your door.

B. J. Ackland was born in Brockville Canada, July 18, 1848, and was the sixth child of Baldwin and Margaret Ackland.

On March 12, 1874, occurred the marriage of B. J. Ackland and Martha Barr. The following day they packed their scanty belongings and journey to the farm they bought which is now occupied by John A. Ackland in Viola township. Seven children were born to this union: Howard R. of Steward; John W. of Viola township; Mrs. Dora Dunn of Ashton; Mrs. Elizabeth Gregory of Santa Fe, N. Mexico; Mrs. Eula Kersey of Fairview, Okla.; George C. of Steward and Jay J. of Rochelle.

In 1887 they purchased and moved to the farm now occupied by George C. in Reynolds township where they resided until they acquired their present home in Rochelle which was in 1906.
Mr. and Mrs. Ackland are both unusually active for their age and bid fair to spend many more wedding anniversaries together. Mrs. Ackland has been a faithful companion, her careful planning and hard work have been no small factor in the success attained by Mr. Ackland. "She spoke well to the ways of her household and eateth not the bread of idleness," was never more truthfully said of any helpmate than of Mrs. Ackland. Always cheerful, and always hospitable, the Ackland home has been a pleasant place to visit. May they be able to celebrate their diamond wedding anniversary in the wish of their many friends.

SMALL'S PLAN IN HARD ROAD SYSTEM BENEFITS TOWNSHIP

Relieves Every Town of Necessity of Maintaining Some Road.

The necessity for the continuation of the state's policy of distributing the roads provided for under the $60,000,000 state bond issue and the proposed $100,000,000 bond issue, evenly throughout Illinois, was emphasized by Governor Small in a statement in which he used figures to forecast a tremendous saving in taxation to every township through which a state bond issue road passes.

"These state roads, built and maintained by auto fees," said the governor, "means so much in taxes saved, or money made available to build additional roads, that no one when he rightly understands conditions can fail to back up the department, not only to see that the roads provided for under the old bond issue are placed so as to divide the benefits so well that they will reach all the people, but also that roads built by the state in the future be located with this same idea of serving all localities alike as nearly as possible."

Saves Townships Money

Governor Small had just been in a conference with a group of highway commissioners who were enthusiastic for the state road building program because of the money it had already saved their townships. They pointed out that in most cases a state bond issue road, where it passes through a township, follows a main route which for many years has been maintained by the township. Relieved of the expense of maintaining this main road the township has money to make improvements upon other roads which are in bad condition.

Basing his calculations upon the money saved to the townships of the state by the roads already built, Governor Small pointed out that the completion of the $60,000,000 bond issue system and the proposed $100,000,000 bond issue system would mean the lifting of a considerable burden of local taxation which the present generation has inherited along with muddy roads.

2400 Miles Now Built

"There had been built up to Jan. 1," said the governor, "2400 miles of concrete pavement on the $60,000,000 bond issue system. If it were possible for the 1645 townships of Illinois to have an equal amount of this hard road mileage, each township would have about one and one-half miles of paved highway, built and maintained by the state. In other words each township would be relieved of the expense of building and maintaining one and one-half miles of road, by the state work which has already been completed. The $60,000,000 bond issue system, when completed, will carry at least 95 per cent of the state's traffic, leaving only 5 per cent of the traffic to be carried by the secondary and township roads which fact clearly indicates the enormous saving in road maintenance, the construction of the paved roads will bring to the local communities."

"Let us suppose that all townships of some of their roads. To put a mile of road in good shape and oil it costs about $500. At this rate the state bond issue already built and maintained by the state should have saved the townships in round figures a million and a quarter of dollars per year. With a saving of this magnitude already computable when only one-fourth of the great 10,000 mile system is completed it is easily seen that a tremendous saving can be expected if the administration's program is carried through to completion. For the past few years the total road and bridge tax assessed against townships of the state has varied between $14,000,000 and $16,000,000. When the state program is finished a great portion of this amount will be made available for use upon other roads."

Lean "got in touch with Mr. Daugherty."

Meantime the Postal Telegraph Company delivered to the committee telegrams of Gus T. Jones, a department of Justice agent at San Antonio, Texas from A. B. Fall, E. L. Doherty and H. F. Sinclair from Dec. 1, 1923 to March 7, 1924.

Talked With Harding

Holdridge then said Muma told him of the private showing here attended by the President and members of the cabinet.

Following the exhibition of the pictures, Holdridge went on, "Muma had a talk with Attorney General Daugherty and the President."

Secretary Christian, Secretary Hughes and Mr. New joined the discussion.

"He told me it seemed to be the general opinion that it was a shame people could not see them," the witness went on. "Later Muma, talking with the Attorney General, he told me, was told that the law against the pictures was solely directed to transportation."

Muma went on to say, Attorney General Daugherty directed him to see Alfred R. Union, an attorney in Washington. Muma broke out to me: "He's the greatest middleman in the world."

Spellacy was present when Muma told his story to him, Holdridge said. He added that Spellacy now is in St. Louis with the American Locomotive Company. Senator Wheeler immediately ordered a subpoena for him.

Muma showed him a copy of a contract, said Holdridge, under which "he, under the name of Martin, received 50 per cent of the profits."

"He said the name Martin was a dummy," said Holdridge. The names of Richard and Quimby also appeared as signers of the contract the witness said.

THE LINCOLN CIRCUIT—
E. O. Laughlin, in the Ladies' Home Journal.

In Springfield, where his ashes lie, A granite column rises high; To Springfield, year on year, there comes A caravan, that never ends, Of pilgrims, eager, come to pay Their homage to his sacred clay; And yet methinks the true estate Of Lincoln, humble, simple, great, Is better sensed in village street, Where once he loved to walk and greet In heartiness his fellows all, In heart, in court house, tavern hall, Methinks his spirit lingers where He lived and wrought. No sepulcher of stately grandeur, cold and dim, Can hold the human heart of him.

The little towns, the county seats, With dreaming squares and idling streets, Plain homes of plainer pioneers, Unsung, yet hallowed through the years Because in distant times they saw Him come to go to practice law, Tell homely tales, crack homely jokes And neighbor with the common folks, The little towns, the country roads, The woods, the prairies, the abodes of humble men where malice fails And charity for all avails— These are the shrines that still unfold The heart of Lincoln as of old, Whose living legend runneth thus: We loved him, he was one of us.

Thursday Reading Circle Entertained

The Thursday Reading Circle met with Mrs. Henry Hintz Thursday afternoon. The meeting was opened by president, Mrs. Anderson. Madames Watts and Bunnell had charge of the program. Mrs. Bunnell read a very interesting and instructive paper on "Illinois State Parks and Memorials." She said, "Illinois parks are surpassed by those of no other state and the program mapped out, gives promise of greater developments." The music of the afternoon was furnished by Misses Mary Hintz and Ora Floto and was much enjoyed. During the social hour the daughters of the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Willing Workers Class Party

The Willing Workers class of the Christian church, a class of girls taught by Mrs. W. C. Stauffer, met at the home of one of their number, Miss Dorothy Bovey Friday evening, and spent a very happy evening. A picnic supper was served and enjoyed and by the twelve girls, the exact number in the class and then afterward an evening of games and music followed. Dainty spring flowers graced the table at the supper.

Attended Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mrs. Lottie Horton of this city attended Wednesday in Rochelle the golden wedding anniversary of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Ackland. They are well known all over this section of the state. The Rochelle Register of Friday, March 14th, has the following account of the celebration:

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Ackland was the scene of unusual festivities Wednesday, it being the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. The reunion of the family was practically complete, all their children and grand children being present with the exception of Luther Kersey, a grandson of Oklahoma.

The home was decorated with roses, daffodils and potted plants. A four-course dinner was served by six waiters attired in the colors used in the decorations. A bout sixty partook of this sumptuous dinner. The turkey which was used for the wedding dinner a half century ago and the bride and groom of Wednesday were seated at the same table that they used to partake of their first dinner in their new home.

A program followed consisting of a splendid talk by Rev. F. W. Nazarene, a former pastor, in which he very cleverly mixed humor with more serious thoughts. The following then appeared:

Dialogue by Kenneth, Marion and Helen Ackland.
Toasts and several songs by Mabel Merritt that were appropriate and beautifully sung.

Reading by Miss Bernice Ackland. Open house was kept in the afternoon to friends and old acquaintances and a number called to extend congratulations. Telegrams from New Mexico, Joliet, Kansas and various other places were received. Many beautiful gifts were received—gifts of gold and fifty roses from the children and grandchildren being among the highly prized mementos of the occasion. The following contribution written by Mrs. August Zimmerman was read:

Fifty years married.
Oh, what does it mean?
Lots of hard luck, work and pleasures unseem.
You started out with nothing and now you have more,
Can buy anyone out that comes to your door.

Fifty years ago you decided to wed—That's enough said.
But you soon found out that three in the house was better than two.
And when Howard made his appearance it pleased both of you.

Then John came as arrival number two,
You wanted a girl, but said he would do.
And when Dora came you thought you were through,
But Elizabeth got here to make a quartet of you.

Now George and Eulah received as hearty a welcome as the rest. But when Baby Jay arrived they really thought he was the best. Because he was the baby with which they all could play,
And being the youngest, he is still their baby today.

But this is all history of which I am a little bit in doubt,
I have only been your neighbor for nine short years, about,
But now that the radio has made its appearance in our home,
We are tied closer together than the fellows in the "Teapot Dome."

And while on the subject of radios I might here say,
That your radio has been harder on you in a way,
Has kept you up more nights until after eleven,
Than you ever stayed up night raising your children seven.

But it does my heart good when Birthdays, Christmas and other holidays appear,
To see all the children come home to their parents dear,
And here's wishing you will be my neighbors for many years more,
For I know your latch-string for me will be on the outside of your door.

B. J. Ackland was born in Brockville Canada, July 18, 1848, and was the sixth child of Baldwin and Margaret Ackland. In the spring of 1854 the family left Canada, crossed the St. Lawrence River to Odgenburg, N. Y., coming down the Great Lakes by boat to Chicago. On May 5, 1854, they landed in Malugin Grove, near the present site of Compton. They made the journey by wagon from Chicago. The family lived here one year, then moved to Whiteside county, near Erie, living there three years. In 1857 the family came back to Amboy in Lee county, finally moving back to Malugin Grove in 1862. In 1864 his father bought a farm near the present site of Scarborough, living there until 1874, when he married Miss Martha Barr.

Martha Mary Barr was born April 24, 1852, at Malugin Grove, Viola township, Lee county and was the oldest child of John and Margaret Barr. Being the oldest member of the family, she saw much of the hardships endured by her parents in the development of this new country which was then considered the far West.

On March 12, 1874, occurred the marriage of B. J. Ackland and Martha Barr. The following day they packed their scanty belongings and journey to the farm they bought which is now occupied by John A. Ackland in Viola township. Seven children were born to this union: Howard R. of Steward; John W. of Viola township; Mrs. Dora Dunn of Ashton; Mrs. Elizabeth Gregory of Santa Fe, N. Mexico; Mrs. Eula Kersey of Fairview, Okla.; George C. of Steward and Jay J. of Rochelle.

In 1887 they purchased and moved to the farm now occupied by George C. in Reynolds township where they resided until they acquired their present home in Rochelle which was in 1906.

Mr. and Mrs. Ackland are both unusually active for their age and bid for the spend many more wedding anniversaries together. Mrs. Ackland has been a faithful companion, her careful planning and hard work have been no small factor in the success attained by Mr. Ackland. "She spoke well to the ways of her household and eateth not the bread of idleness," was never more truthfully said of any helpmate than of Mrs. Ackland. Always cheerful, and always hospitable, the Ackland home has been a pleasant place to visit. May they be able to celebrate their diamond wedding anniversary is the wish of their many friends.

T. B. COSTS MILLIONS.

Tuberculosis costs the United States 500 million dollars a year, according to the Anti-Tuberculosis League. It arrives at this figure by estimating that each year of the average person's life is worth $100 in the form of national wealth. Thus a person, who dies five years prematurely, means a loss of $500 to national wealth.

Surely we are worth more than $100 a year apiece to the nation. But even that low figure means a loss of half a billion dollars a year. If men had even mild intelligence, they would stop fighting each other and concentrate on the common enemy, disease. The money spent on the World War would, devoted to scientific research and health measures, eliminate nearly every disease now known.

FOR THE FUTURE.

The Gray children give $70 to the city council of New Haven, Conn. They request that the $70 be placed in a savings bank for 100 years, when it will have increased, by compound interest, to 14 million dollars. Then it's to be used for charity.

Why not make a similar arrangement for paying off at least part of our national, state and municipal debts?

PRICES.

Wholesale prices continue strong, which indicates the sellers have confidence in their ability to find lots of customers.

The authority, Dun's Review, reports average wholesale prices almost exactly the same as last October. These prices average a fourth higher than the low point of 1921.

The purchasing power of the consumer's dollar marks time at 60 cents on the dollar. That is, a dollar buys only three-fifths as much as before the war. To break even, a man must be making a correspondingly larger income.

TROPICS MORE ACTIVE.

The people of the tropics are more active. Our nation's trade with tropical countries has increased 130 per cent since 1913, while trade with countries outside the tropics gained only 75 per cent. This is partly a price hoax, for the figures represent higher selling prices instead of increase in actual physical volume of sales. But that doesn't affect the relative standing of tropical and non-tropical.

PREACHING TO A PEOPLE.

Of extraordinary interest is the announcement that there is to be a "College of Preachers" at the National Cathedral in Washington. The plan has promise of far-reaching results. It is inspired by a great vision of the future. But it is no less clearly marked by practical wisdom and keen sense of immediate need and opportunity.

A National Cathedral, regardless of creed, must serve the nation. Else it betrays its name, standing at the nation's capital, as an enduring monument of a people's faith, it must also be a power-house out from which will flow currents of spiritual energy into the nation's life. From the first this has been the vision of the builders and promoters of the National Cathedral. Now the first step is to be taken towards its fulfillment. It is a step wisely chosen and well timed. In the spiritual world, as in the natural, harvest depends on seed-sowing. The preacher is the sower. Nothing comes after unless he sows before. So it has always been. The birth, the growth, the many "revivals," of the Christian church, have come through the ministry of preaching. The harvest has indeed been rich and varied. It includes the whole sweep of Christian civilization. But art, philosophy, science, literature, and in a word, all Christian institutions, have sprung from the sowing of the seed, from the preaching of the word.

Sound in theory, this new departure is no less timely. It comes at the right moment. That faith is dying, and religion in danger, may indeed be true, but it is only half the truth. The people know the danger. They seek relief. They want faith restored. No doubt there is much groping in the dark, much running after strange gods, much criticisms of old traditions and beliefs. But these at bottom are signs of life and symptoms of spiritual awakening. They give the challenge of the hour. They show the door now open, to be entered with the least possible delay. "How shall they hear without a preacher?" These were questions asked and answered in the days of the Apostles. They are asked today, and today the College of Preachers means to find the answer. God speed the work!

UNSKILLED WORKERS.

In the last six months 555,000 immigrants arrived in our country. Of these, 129,000 registered as skilled laborers and professional men. The rest were unskilled, about 206,000 actually saying they have no regular vocations.

It doesn't matter, for the unskilled soon become skilled in America, the country of specialists where the man who doesn't specialize at something has about as much chance as Elbert Hubbard's cat with tallow legs.

GREEN PLANTS.

The real food factories are green plants. In fact, green plants are the only food factories. So claims Dr. Marshall A. Howe of the New York Botanical Gardens.

The food values of the meat, milk, butter and eggs we get from animals and poultry come through them second-hand from green plant life, the real creators.

Spring is not far off—the season of fresh vegetables grown naturally. In them and in fresh fruit is more "fountain of youth," than in a basket of monkey glands.

WEALTH.

An obscure barber in Harrison, N. Y., gets word he is heir to a fortune of 75 million dollars. This money has been held in trust by the French government for more than a century. The history of the case involves old-time sailors, a kidnapping and other highlights of adventure.

It appeals to the imagination. But, according to Christian Science Monitor, there are more than 200 personal fortunes in the United States estimated at over 50 million dollars apiece. This certainly is a land of opportunity—though, often, only for a few.

FATAL ACCIDENTS.

Fatal auto accidents have increased by half in five years. This is due, however, not to increased carelessness, but to the larger number of machines in use. The element of danger accompanying the average car is slowly but surely growing less. All this is the result of safety-first campaigns and more intelligent handling of traffic. We've made a good start in this direction, but there's still a long way to go.

Accidents, almost without exception, originate in someone's carelessness.

The Eskimos are said to be very happy. Well, they don't have to argue the weather. They know it will be cold.

"Women who bob their hair are not crazy," says a specialist. These specialists will say anything.

Closed autos are becoming as popular as closed mouths.

A government is a system of checks and balances which tend to become check books and bank balances.

Judging by reports, the oil in Washington must be about knee deep to a telephone pole.

The ex-kaiser is planting a rose garden, which is one way to get your flowers while you are living.

The interest on $70 will amount to $14,000,000 if you can afford to wait 300 years for it.

In St. Louis, a man of 76 married a woman of 74, this being the first sign of spring in St. Louis.

Now Sir Oliver Lodge is worried about the world, indicating he is getting along in years.

A big town is a place where a polite traffic cop may be charged with conduct unbecoming an officer.

The most heavily insured woman carries $3,000,000 and lives in Chicago, where everyone should be heavily insured.

"How do you do?" he said politely.

Mister Fuzz Wuzz, the pipe-cleaner man, met the Twins at the door of Doofunny Land.

He bowed low, but sprang back instantly into place, and put on the high silk hat that he had quickly grabbed off his head upon their arrival.

Mister Fuzz Wuzz was quite a gentleman.

"How do you do?" he said politely. "You're a little late, but it doesn't matter. The jury is all here but you. Now we can go on with the trial."

"What is a jury?" asked Nancy. "and what's a trial?"

"Were you expecting us?" Nick wanted to know.

Mister Fuzz Wuzz looked at his watch. "For the last half hour," he said. "But I'm surprised that you don't know what a jury is! It's 12 people, who decide something. When somebody is blamed for doing something wrong, then they are taken to court, and 12 people are asked to come and hear all about it. They're called a jury! They decide whether the person is to blame or not to blame. The whole thing is called a trial. Understand?"

"Yes, yes!" cried the Twins. "Let's go right away. It sounds very exciting."

"It is!" nodded Mister Fuzz Wuzz. "I'll tell you the facts of the case on the way."

So off they started.

"It's all about the peanut boy's nose," said Mister Fuzz Wuzz gravely. "It's broken!"

"Did he get into a fight?" asked Nick.

"No! The tin-soldier rode his tin horse right over him, and it is the soldier who has to be tried," said Nick.

OVERWORKED
BY BERTON BRADLEY.

That much abused adjective, "hectic" The flapper has grabbed for her own. To use in a manner eclectic To qualify everything known; She seems to have almost a passion For making it fit any noun. Or characterize every fashion Of perch or party or gown.

"I'm feeling just hectic this morning! That party was hectic last night! And father, today, gave a warning That—well, it was hectic, all right! I've got a new gown—very 'arty'. Thought awfully hectic in hue! That new man we met at the party is hectic, I think, over you!"

Now here is the humor sardonic; Consult Mr. Webster, you'll glean The knowledge that hectic means "chronic." Not "brilliant" or "vivid" or "keen," But who cares what books say about it?

The flapper does not, I aver, For hectic's her word, and she'll spout it Because it's chronic with her!

I left home? Positively, it seems to me as though I had been here forever. I feel as though I had hit the thing I want to do most in the world. It's a constant fight every minute in this advertising business, and I am never quite sure whether my boss is going to purr like a kitty cat or growl like a bear, he is so temperamental. But that makes him interesting, Jim.

I didn't say "Poor boy!" when I read your letter over. Instead I smiled. You thought you were writing me the kind of a letter that a sophisticated man of the world would write, but you didn't at all. And as for me not wanting to live without the admiration or devotion of some man—I guess that's true, Jim. But isn't it true of every woman?

You say also, "You let me love you." Good Lord, Jim, of course I let you love me! I've let a dozen men love me, but I didn't allow them to tell me so, although they knew they loved me and they knew I knew they loved me. But also remember this, my boy, they knew I didn't love them.

So you think I pique a man's curiosity, Jim? That's interesting, if true. And let me make a little confession to you. I sometimes rather pique my own! I'm not always sure just what I'm going to do next, are you? It makes life so much more thrilling, doesn't it, if you cannot see it all out and dried before you.

And so Sam hasn't mentioned me to you since I left. Does he seem happy, Jim? Honestly, I'd really like him to be happy. You know he wasn't happy at all with me, and yet he's got one of those peculiar dispositions that makes me think I've been horrid to him to leave him, and he won't just own up to himself that he is happier without me.

Isn't it queer, Jim, the way we have so many complexes and inhibitions? I've had them all my life until now; but now I feel free, Jim, much freer than I ever have been before. I have enough work to keep my restlessness in subjection, and I have a feeling I'm going to make something of myself.

Jim, I think I should have been a woman—not that I can't like being a woman, but a man can change his mind often without people calling attention to the fact. A man has a chance to grow, to throw aside the things that hamper him, and above all else, a man can make friends with other men.

You see, Jim, I'm not treating you like a boy any more. I'm talking to you now like a friend. I need a friend, Jim. Be mine, won't you? At least until you marry some sweet girl who will hate me and probably hardly allow you to speak to me. And yet, Jim, I think the time will come some day when you will be glad I was your friend and that you learned about women from me.

Your Health
By Dr. C.C. Robinson.
A REDUCING DIET
A satisfying reducing diet must furnish enough of the rebuilding food (proteins) for daily bodily use in tissue building. But since its caloric value is well below the average daily amount demanded by the body, from 2500 to 3500 calories daily, the deficiency must be supplied from the fat stored up in your body. This, of course, causes loss of weight.

Gradual reduction, calling for a weight decrease of from one to two pounds each week, is the objective sought. Gradually modify your diet.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE BY AHERN

THE MAJOR GIVES A MODEST ESTIMATE OF THE ESTATE

Take light exercise at first but gradually increase.

Make up your mind to give up your favorite sweets. You are in for reducing and one year should show good results.

A balanced diet must be maintained if the greatest good is to be accomplished. The fats are to be avoided, but protein or body building food, starch, sugar and mineral salts must be carefully balanced.

Here is a good beginning diet for daily use:

Breakfast—Small portion of fruit. Two eggs or a small portion of any lean meat. One cup of coffee, without sugar and small amount of milk; do not use cream.

Lunch—Clear soup; no rice or noodles. Two slices of bread or small amount of toast or rolls; no butter. Green vegetables of any kind. Small portion of vegetables of any kind; small portion.

Small portion of lean meat. Cup of tea or water.

Dinner—One cup of clear soup. One slice of bread, small pat of butter. Non-fat meat, one small piece.

One potato or small portion of carrots or beets. Small cup of tea; no sugar.

Try this diet for a month, with very little variation. Always drink a full amount of water, at least one pint during the day. Walking is the best exercise to start with your reducing.

This program will be extended in a later article.

Officer Hinkle Says It's Easy to Smile When One's Health Is Good—Gives Tanlac Credit for Recovery.

Few cities can boast of a more wide-awake and efficient traffic officer than Clarence D. Hinkle, 4345 Fleming St., Philadelphia, Pa., who has been a member of the Philadelphia Police Department for ten years and who handles the traffic at Fourth and Market Streets, one of the city's busiest corners.

"It is no easy thing," said Officer Hinkle, recently, "to serve the public with a smile when you are suffering the pangs of indigestion as I have done during the past year. Not only that, my appetite was lagging, I had frequent spells of nervousness and couldn't sleep right, and it kept me on my P's and Q's to look after my duties around the traffic zone."

"But since I have taken Tanlac, my stomach and nerves are strong and normal and I eat, sleep and feel so good that my work is a genuine pleasure."

Ex-Crown Prince Now Sells Farm Machinery

London, March 17.—The former German crown prince is now selling farm machinery and is living at the home of his brother, Elitel Friederich at Potsdam with his wife and family, according to the Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent.

Moved by Frederick William's plea that his fortune had suffered the same as everybody else's through the fall of the mark the government gave him permission to go to Berlin and enter business.

At first he tried to conceal his identity from the public, but when he took the princess to the movies last Saturday, the pair were recognized and greeted with cheers.

The correspondent says his prospects of success are bright since all landholders are staunch monarchists and many are personally known to the prince.

Congregations Christian Churches Welcomed Visitors.

Sterling and Dixon Christian Church pastors occupied each other's pulpits Sunday morning, carrying fraternal messages and stressing co-operation and united support of all the great missionary and benevolent enterprises they represent.

Is Your Back Giving Out?

ARE you miserable with an aching back? Do you get up lame and stiff—lag through the day, tired, weak and worn out? Do you wonder why you are so run down? Many times this condition is due to weak kidneys. Winter's colds and chills are hard on the kidneys. The kidneys are apt to slow up in their work of filtering body-poisons from the blood. These poisons accumulate. Then comes backache, with rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and kidney irregularities.

Don't risk serious kidney trouble! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's have helped thousands. They are recommended by many Dixon people. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Dixon Folks:

H. W. Wheeler, 815 W. Third St., says: "I had kidney trouble and to bend over to pick up anything was impossible. I had to pass the kidney secretions two or three times an hour and they were scanty, too. I was advised to get Doan's Pills. Doan's helped me in a few days."
